

DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

U. C. FOWLER, Editor & Proprietor.

THURSDAY.....MAY 6, 1880.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

William P. Daingerfield, presiding Justice of the San Francisco Superior Court, dropped dead on the bench at noon yesterday. He was hearing a case when he suddenly threw up his hands, gasped once or twice, and expired. He has been in infirm health for some months past, and his death is attributed to heart disease. Deceased was a native of Virginia, aged 56. He was Judge of the Twelfth District Court previous to the re-organization of the Judiciary under the new Constitution.

Wm. S. King of Minneapolis, gives out a copy of a lengthy letter written to Donnelly, reminding the latter of attempting to bribe himself and a State Senator for $5,000 on Federal Senatorship; how Donnelly followed people through the halls of Congress, to hotels and neighboring cities, demanding money for his services on committees. How he levied $5,000 on the agent of a New York party and then secured the same amount from the principal before the first payment was known. King leaves to-day to testify.

The result of the Illinois County Conventions throughout the State gives Grant 29 and Blaine 26 delegates to the State Convention, leaving totals according to both claimants nearly equal.

While no delegate to the Anti-Third Term Convention has arrived at St. Louis, ex-Senator Henderson declares he has trustworthy letters that twenty Pennsylvania delegates have signed a pledge to break instructions. Ex-Senator Woodin of New York writes that he and fifteen other delegates to Chicago having taken a mutual pledge to vote against Grant.

William Vanderbilt, President of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, in his annual report of 1879, which will be submitted at a stockholder's meeting to-day at Cleveland, shows gross earnings of the company to be $15,271,492; net earnings $6,336,968; increase in net earnings, $843,802. The net earnings are the largest in the history of the road.

The Ohio Democratic Convention will be held at Columbus to-day. Thurman, Payne, Tilden and Jewett all have headquarters and busy friends who are working hard for their favorites. Congressmen Hurd, Lefevre, Atherton, Finley and MacMahon are already here. Thus far the factions seem very peaceably disposed and inclined to use honey rather than vinegar to attract attention to those they champion. It looks now as if all factions will combine to prevent the Convention from instructing for Thurman. It is very probable that the Convention will endorse Thurman, but allow delegates to go to Cincinnati uninstructed. An attempt to do more than this, as matters look now, will be opposed by friends of all other candidates.

CHAT BY THE WAY.

Othello was the original of "what is house without its smother?" The suggestion has been improved upon since.

A red nose is a suspicious facial ornament on a man or woman and sometimes gives small boys a handle to play with. An urchin who had begged a penny of an old toper in vain rewarded him with this advice: "Don't you carry that nose of your'n near to no powder factory, or they might play the hose onto yer."

An Indiana girl who was suddenly kissed at a party has become insane. Such things should be talked over at least a whole week beforehand.

In Michigan social etiquette permits a bride to be married without gloves because that's the way she handles the groom after marriage.

A Wisconsin woman has been married fifty-eight years and has never missed building her kitchen fire. Her husband is probably the oldest fire-escape on record.

As Summer approaches the usual gush about funeral sermons is going the rounds. If these incursions were paid for their number would, of course, depend upon their cost. But Bishop Bedell, of Ohio, thinks that if ministers would only speak the truth about the dead at funerals the demand for such sermons would be rapidly diminished. We think so, too.

If the Republican States dictate the nominee of the Chicago, and it seems to us they should, if there is any dictation about it, Blaine will be the nominee.

The Gold Hill News says Hon. Wm. Woodburn and Judge Lewis are now spoken of as aspirants for the office of United States Senator, to succeed Sharon. F. A. Tittle is already squarely in the field for the position.

JOB PRINTING.—This office has every facility for doing all kinds of job printing. And inasmuch as all home industries should have the preference over all others, we should be pleased to receive orders at any time for that class of work.

THE SENATORSHIP.

An article from the Gold Hill News, published elsewhere, forces one to the conclusion that Mr. Sharon intends to be a candidate for re-election. It is well enough to understand the situation in time. Mr. Sharon's only hope is in the belief that he can buy the office, and if he enters the field it must be understood that he calculates to spend two or three hundred thousand dollars to attain his object. But after the failure he has made as a Senator, the unfaithfulness shown toward his party and his State, it is impossible to believe that any amount of money can secure him a re-election. His candidacy would be the very sublimity of impudence, and should be frowned upon by the people at the very outset. Even were he a resident of the State, he has no claims which might be justly urged in his favor. If Mr. Sharon is a candidate every Republican Convention which meets from this time on, should give an expression of its feelings toward his candidacy.

Our Growing Prosperity.

The exports from the United States to Great Britain for the past year, exceeded those of the year previous by over $55,000,000. The largest noticeable increase was in provisions. In 1874 Great Britain paid the United States for bacon, hams, beef, butter and cheese, $37,000,000; in 1878, $66,000,000. The increase of exports in breadstuffs last year over the previous one, was $32,000,000, and over 1874 it amounted to $35,000,000.

The public debt, August 7, 1865, was $2,997,396,203; amount of debt April 1, 1880, $1,930,302,825. Decrease, $1,016,993,378. The interest on the public debt for the year following the closing of the war, was $143,781,502. At the present time it is only about $82,000,000, and before the close of 1881, it is estimated that it will be down as low as $70,000,000.

UNITED STATES SENATORSHIP

Sharon Not Yet Positively Out of the Field.—F. A. Tittle Positively in It.

[Gold Hill News.]

The subject of electing a United States Senator to succeed Mr. Sharon is beginning to excite interest. The News was well advised when it said that Mr. Sharon was not in the field, but it was not thoroughly advised. Mr. Sharon has said that he would not be a candidate for re-election, and he also said that he would not say whether he would be a candidate or not.

A gentleman recently from San Francisco who interviewed Mr. Sharon on the subject and asked the question directly, and was told by that gentleman that he did not know that he was bound to answer that question; he might be in the field and he might not; he could not really answer at present; he would wait and see how things shaped themselves, and if, in a couple of months from now, everything was favorable and his business arranged so that he could leave it, he would be a candidate for re-election.

With the foregoing for a starter, a News representative sought Mr. Tittle. That gentleman said he was in the field as a candidate. He thought, as an old resident of the State and under a government like ours he had a right to come before the people of Nevada in a representative capacity. He had lived here a long time and many people were acquainted with him personally. He should visit the principal places of the State and talk with his friends. He was not "on the campaign" nor on the "buy-up." He would never do anything which would cause him a loss of self respect or the respect of his friends or his party. He was ready to help organize the party, and to contribute to the necessary expenses of the campaign, but further than that he had no intention or desire to go. He would desecrate no base or underhanded measures to secure an election. He was willing to serve the State according to his ability. Most of the work of legislation was now done in committee rooms, where industry was necessary. Work there, and the fact that a man was always in his seat and ready to vote on any proposition that came up would, in a short time, give a representative influence. What was wanted was a working and attentive representative. The wants of Nevada were comparatively few, and they would not be denied to any man who stood ready to work for them and to vote for them when they came up in committee rooms and before the Senate. By helping others with a vote in time of need he would be helped in turn.

Mr. Tittle expressed at length his views on the political issues on the day, but these will be made known more fully during the campaign. They are in a measure foreign to the purpose of this item, which has been written more in confirmation of what appeared in a former issue of the News and as a matter of public information than with any other motive.

We call the attention of our readers to the speech of W. W. Bishop, Esq., before the Eureka Republican Convention. It has the true ring, and was delivered in the usual eloquent and impressive manner of the gentleman named, who is one of the leaders of the party in Eastern Nevada.

Owing to certain irregularities in the affairs of Postmaster Court at the San Antonio office, Nyo county, he has been removed, and on recommendation of Representative Daggitt, J. P. Cokester has been appointed in his place.

SPEECH OF HON. W. W. BISHOP.

"Put these boys Blaine, Grant and Grant."

In speaking before the Eureka County Republican Convention, to the resolutions reported from the Committee of which he was Chairman, Mr. Bishop said:

Mr. President:—On the 24th day of this month a vote was taken by the Republicans of Eureka county, for the purpose of determining who was the favorite of the party, the choice of the voters for Presidential honors. The result, as shown by the returns, is that over ten out of every eleven votes cast on that day, in this county, were in favor of that eminent civil chief, who has done so much in the councils of the Nation to advance the interest and perpetuate the institutions of freedom—whose voice has ever been raised in the Congressional halls, and elsewhere, in behalf of liberty, law, order and justice; who has shown by every action, during a long and glorious career, that he was the friend of these Western States, and in favor of the advancement and protection of the material interests of every portion of the Nation; who, by his unflinching patriotism, great ability, and unconquerable zeal in the discharge of duty, has become the unquestioned civil leader of the National Republican Party; that true and tried friend of the people—James G. Blaine.

This Convention is unanimous for James G. Blaine. Here the friends of General Grant are aiding to swell the ranks, because, like good Republicans always do, they have yielded up their personal preferences in deference to the will of the majority. Those who have favored Grant and striven for his success, are today aiding to make the majority opinion successful in the approaching contest, where the hosts of freedom must once more meet with and battle against the exponents of secession, the supporters of States rights and defenders of the other and kindred heresies of the so-called Democracy.

It may be that when the National Convention has finished its labors, that our choice will not prove to have been that of the masses of the party in other sections of this great country. If that be so, and some other man shall be selected as the National standard bearer—even if Grant shall be the third time selected as our leader, we, who now desire Blaine as the nominee, will bury from sight all personal feeling,—will tear from our hearts all evidence of hatred, or opposition, and with the old-time fervor rush into the ranks and aid to elect the candidates of the party, be they whom they may. But, until we are forced to yield to another, we are most solemnly pledged to the support of our choice for President of the Union.

As Republicans,—as citizens of the Nation that was saved from destruction by his bravery and military genius,—as participants in the benefits that have accrued to the Government and the people from the wisdom of his administration of public affairs, as Americans, proud of American excellence, we feel that General Grant is entitled to our warmest gratitude, our perfect confidence and unending love. But, Mr. President, we also feel that the people of this Nation have already sufficiently honored him for all that he has done; that honor after honor has been heaped upon him by a brave, magnanimous people—so much so that he should rest content with the laurels already decking his brow, and not give us cause to think, or reason to accuse him with a design to pluck from his head the wreaths of Republican simplicity, in order that an imperial crown should disfigure and disgrace him. While it is true that General Grant has carved his name upon the proud column that adorns the Temple of Fame, and by the grandeur of his military achievements won the admiration of the world—the name is most plainly written upon that side of the column that is shaded by the honors of war and garlanded with wreaths of victory plucked from the unsanguined field where brother met brother in deadly conflict. There let the name stand forever, as the pride of the patriot and the caution to traitors of our country.

But, Mr. President, there is a fairer side to that proud column. It is that on which Peace has recorded her victories. It is guarded by the angels of Mercy and Charity. The Goddess of Peace, with folded wings, sits upon the capital of the column. It is adorned by the offerings of the arts and sciences, enriched by those of commerce, manufacture and agriculture. And under watch from the loyal sons of America, who now desire peace. On this fairer side of the column, as high as the name of the military leader upon the other side stands that of our great civil leader—the Statesman, the Patriot, the people's choice—James G. Blaine.

I am in favor of selecting delegates to the National Convention that are fresh from the people—men who will obey our instructions. This State does not belong to any one man. William Sharon does not carry it in his pocket, even if General Grant did so, declare from the balcony of the Savage Company's office, in Virginia. I am not in favor of electing Jones, or Sharon, or Daggitt, as delegates to the National Convention. I want men who are not tinctured with love of power—men who are free from the baneful influence of Cameron, who claims to own the Republicans of New York; or the trucking time-servers who act as ordered, and unquestioningly obey these self-styled autocrats.

Give us six, true men, instructed to vote for Blaine as long as he is a candidate before the convention, seeking a nomination, and then let the ticket be what it may; let the standard-bearers be any one of millions of the Republicans of the nation; and I will—so will you, Mr. President, and all other true Republicans—rally again to the support of the grand old party of progress.

—James G. Blaine.

In Germany quantities of glucose, or grape sugar, are made from old linen rags. The rags are converted into dextrine by treatment with sulphuric acid. This is washed with a lime solution, when the addition of stronger sulphuric acid changes the dextrine to glucose. The process is economical, but popular tastes revolt against the use of sweets from old rags, as it does from butter made from old grease.

It gives us pleasure to say that although the number of scholars has at some times been larger than during the last term, the school is now in better condition than it has ever before been, and it is now more than ever before, worthy of patronage and support.

TEACHERS:

Miss Kate A. Still, the first Principal, returned and resumed her position at the beginning of the last term, to the great satisfaction of every scholar, and friend of the school. Mrs. L. H. Graham has also returned, and with Miss Still will hereafter be aided with the school. Miss Eva Quailie, a teacher of music, is too well and favorably known to need any commendation from us. In addition to these the Rev. J. H. Jenney, Miss Julia M. Woodruff, and Miss Jane Briscoe, three thoroughly competent teachers have been employed during the past term. Addition to the staff of teachers will be made whenever the wants of the School may require it; but with thirty-five scholars, the number in attendance during the last term, six teachers are amply sufficient to do full justice to every scholar while special attention is given to the Insane Asylum Matters.

Gov. Kinkaid and State Treasurer Crockett, accompanied by Mr. A. A. Cook, an excellent architect, from Sacramento, visited the State Prison grounds yesterday, with a view of ascertaining the best proposition concerning the building of an insane asylum, and that the Commissioners might be able to make an intelligent report to the Legislature. Mr. Cook will submit plans and make estimates for two different buildings. One of them will include the using of the material in the present Prison walls, while the other will be for an entirely new building.

Lamp Explosion.

The explosion of a lamp in one of the houses in the back alley night before last, during the absence of the "girls," would have made a big fire had it not been discovered by the neighbors. As it was the furniture was considerably damaged. The wind was blowing a hurricane at the time, and had the fire become unmanageable, everything in range would have been imperiled.

Important Change.

We understand that an important change will be made in the C. P. time table on June 1st, by which the east-bound Overland will leave San Francisco at 4 p. m. arriving in Reno at 7 a. m. The lightning train will then be discontinued altogether.

The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment in the Ricard-C. P. R. case. This was a suit for malicious prosecution, and plaintiff got judgment for $4,000. The Court points out many "errors" committed by the District Court.

Gov. Stanford, of the C. P. R. R. was a passenger on last night's east-bound Overland train. He is en route to Europe, where he will stop two months.

Gov. Kinkaid returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he has been for the past three days.

There is no change worthy of note in the price of mining stocks. The market appears weak.

NEW RAILROADS.

The New Line Projected For Nevada.

CARSON AND COLORADO RAILROAD. The above is the name of the new railroad to Bodie, to be built from the Mound House. It is to be a narrow gauge, instead of a broad gauge. Ordinarily the transfers would be made at the Mound House, but Carson will be the headquarters of the new road, and a third rail will be put in on the V. & T. from Carson to the Mound House.

WADSWORTH AND COLLYVILLE RAILROAD. On Saturday last articles of incorporation of a railroad from Wadsworth to Collyville, Colorado, were filed in the Secretary of State's office at Carson. The incorporators are ex-Senator Dorsey, of Arkansas, and a number of prominent New Yorkers. The distance between the two places named is 350 miles, and the articles of incorporation state that the sum of $1,000 per mile has been paid in. This company, as we understand it is entirely separate from the company which talk of building from Wadsworth to Walker Lake, and with which ex-Gov. Woods and Mr. Holmes are connected.

FROM RENO NORTH. From a gentleman just from San Francisco we learn that ex-Gov. Woods and his party are thinking seriously of abandoning the project of their road south from Wadsworth, because of the certainty of competing roads and are disposed to take hold and build a railroad north from Reno. There would be some sense in that, and if they will only investigate the matter, we know they will reach the conclusion that the investment is the best one they can make.

OTHER ROADS. The people of Pioche and others sections of southeastern Nevada are anxious for railroad connection with the main road, and are displaying considerable effort toward securing it.

District Court.

The District Court reopened yesterday morning, Judge S. D. King presiding, and the following business was transacted:

W. H. Joy vs. W. A. Walker—Motion for new trial withdrawn.

D. Powell vs. Mrs. Hickman—Demurrer withdrawn. Defendants allowed ten days to answer.

D. Lechman vs. Thos. Wheeler and wife—Default of defendants entered. Judgment for plaintiff for $975 with interests and costs.

Walter Schundt vs. J. P. Murrain—Defendants allowed ten days to file objections to report of referee. W. A. Walker appointed receiver.

The defendants in the suit of Bunting and Harrison vs. Central Pacific Railroad Company, were granted twenty days in which to prepare and file a statement on motion for a new trial. Defendants were also allowed five days to examine bill of costs and file objections to the same. A stay of execution was granted until the motion for a new trial shall be disposed of. The following are the grounds of the motion for a new trial:

- 1. Newly discovered evidence material for the defendants, which could not with reasonable diligence have been produced.
- 2. Excessive damages appearing to have been given under the influence of passion and prejudice.
- 3. Irregularity in the proceedings of the jury, by which defendants were prevented from having a fair trial.
- 4. Misconduct of the jury.
- 5. Insufficiency of the evidence.
- 6. The verdict is against the law.
- 7. Errors of law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the defendants.

The amount of the plaintiff's bill of costs as filed, is $1,810.
